

Corporate

Our firm is widely recognized for its experience in corporate transactions and our attorneys have a broad base of experience, having served as counsel to major privately held and publicly traded corporations and financial institutions. Our corporate group involves an interdisciplinary team of lawyers from various practice areas handling corporate, securities, tax, intellectual property, environmental, employee benefits and antitrust issues arising from these transactions. We provide legal services in every area of concern to business, governmental, and non-profit institutions and also represent individuals in a number of corporate matters.

Our attorneys assist clients in the preparation of registration statements, initial public offerings, proxy statements, annual reports, and similar filings. We design executive and employee equity participation programs for publicly traded companies and other reporting entities such as financial institutions. Our firm is involved in the private placement of securities, venture capital financings, stockholder relations, corporate mergers and acquisitions, and secured and unsecured lending transactions, and also has significant experience in structuring innovative business, finance, and tax solutions for start-up, developmental, and middle-market enterprises.
