Charn Reid focuses his practice primarily on pharmaceutical and medical device litigation. He has represented manufacturers of various prescription drugs, including weight loss medication and non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs).

In addition, Charn has represented financial institutions in complex commercial matters.

While in law school, Charn served as a Teaching Assistant in Business and Hospitality Law and a Graduate Community Assistant (GCA) at the law school's dormitory, Hughes Hall. He also studied international and comparative law at the Universite de Paris I (Pantheon-Sorbonne).

Charn previously practiced in the Product Liability and Toxic Torts practice group at DLA Piper in Philadelphia, PA. Prior to attending law school, he was employed as a management and IT consultant in the Financial Services division of a global consulting firm.
