RE: SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION V. ANTHONY CORONATI, 13 MC 00372 (WHP)

Dear Judge Pauley:

This law firm represents the defendant, Anthony Coronati, in the above-described matter before Your Honor. By Order dated January 27, 2014, the parties are required to appear tomorrow, February 6, 2014 for a conference. By this letter motion, we respectfully request an adjournment of two weeks from the original date, or a time thereafter convenient for the Court. The plaintiff, the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), by email dated today, February 5th, by Preethi Krishnamurthy, Esq., has informed us that it has no objection to this motion given the progress the defendant has recently shown with respect to subpoena compliance.

We acknowledge Your Honor's individual practices requiring requests for adjournments be received in Chambers at least two business days before the schedule date. In this matter, we respectfully submit that the parties have been working diligently since January 24th to address various topics, a process that has been very dynamic. We submit that the intensity of the effort has contributed to submitting this request at such late date.

Since filing its notice of appearance (ECF 23), this law firm has been in frequent communication with the SEC and has already started producing documents pursuant to the SEC's subpoena in this matter. Additionally, the parties have a scheduled 2 p.m. call again today to further discuss issues pertaining to subpoena production. We expect that an adjournment of two weeks will afford the parties sufficient time to resolve any remaining issues.

For the foregoing reasons, we respectfully request that the Court grant our motion. Thank you.

Respectfully submitted,

Gottlieb & Gordon LLP
