Brooks Pierce, a leading law firm in North Carolina, is pleased to announce that it is expanding its real estate practice with the addition of associate Anna Tison in the firm's Raleigh office.

"We're excited Anna is joining our growing Raleigh office," said Brooks Pierce managing partner Reid Phillips. "She brings with her fresh talent, keen insight and a strong skill set that will help us to better serve our clients."

Tison represents buyers, sellers, developers, lenders and investors in complex commercial real estate transactions. She also provides counsel in commercial lending, joint ventures, leasing, acquisitions and dispositions of real estate.

She is a member of the Wake County Bar Association. She received her bachelor's degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and her law degree from the UNC School of Law where she was the symposium editor for North Carolina Law Review. She also served as a judicial extern to the Hon. Robert C. Hunter in the North Carolina Court of Appeals.
