

Transportation

Getting from Here to There

No matter what mode of transportation you use, chances are good that it is heavily regulated. Brooks Pierce has extensive experience helping businesses in the transportation industry navigate the complex regulatory environment and achieve success.

Our services include:

- Aviation – we represent aircraft owners, aircraft manufacturing and maintenance companies, and organizations with aviation operations. We represent our clients in a wide range of matters related to aviation, such as
 - Ownership and operation of aircraft
 - Site location for airports
 - Changes in legislation and tax laws
 - Research and training programs
 - Compliance with FAA regulations
 - UAS/UAV/Drone regulation and FAA regulation
- Railroad – several of our attorneys represent railroad companies in litigation, intellectual property, and corporate counsel.
- Automotive – we represent dealerships, parts manufacturers, gas companies, and businesses that work to design highway infrastructure. We assist our clients with general counsel, litigation, product liability claims, and government representation.
- Maritime – our attorneys are well-versed in cross-border and maritime laws, including tax, tariff, and import and export regulations. We also represent clients before the Federal Maritime Commission.

How can we help you get from here to there?

PEOPLE

Charles S. Baldwin IV

Marc D. Bishop

H. Arthur Bolick II

Alexander Elkan

Robert King III

Katelyn Kingsbury

Brian McMillan

William G. McNairy

John W. Ormand III

Gary S. Parsons

Reid L. Phillips

William Ross Jr.

John H. Small

Bryan Starrett

Ed Turlington

Will (Otis) Walker

Howard L. Williams

NEWSROOM

News

Key Settlement Highlighted by North Carolina Lawyers Weekly
North Carolina Lawyers Weekly, 10.24.2017

WRAL Interviews Stephen Hartzell on FAA Drone Regulation
06.23.2016

Publications

North Carolina Legislative Update, November 4, 2019
11.04.2019

North Carolina Legislative Update, October 25, 2019
10.25.2019