Ashley Voss is the E-Discovery Project Manager for Brooks Pierce. She is responsible for managing litigation support services, throughout the entire case lifecycle, while implementing and maintaining compliance with e-discovery best practices, processes, and protocols. She works with attorneys and clients to develop effective electronic discovery workflows, ranging from legal hold implementation and the preservation and collection of data, to negotiations regarding scope of discovery and the review and production of electronically stored information.

Ashley works to provide efficient, customized solutions for Brooks Pierce clients, while controlling costs, maintaining security and privacy, and minimizing the disruption to daily business operations.

Previous Experience

Ashley has more than 20 years of experience in e-discovery and litigation support. Prior to joining Brooks Pierce, she held various roles within the e-discovery departments at law firms Zuckerman Spaeder and Gibson Dunn & Crutcher.
