

Brooks Pierce Sponsors Economic Development Association Fall Conference

10.14.2021

Brooks Pierce was proud to sponsor the North Carolina Economic Development Association's 2021 Fall Conference. The conference was held Oct.12-13.

The Fall Conference provided an opportunity for economic development professionals from across North Carolina to expand their knowledge, sharpen their skills and build connections to advance their careers and better serve the needs of their communities.

Brooks Pierce attorneys can provide thorough and effective counsel across all issues that can arise from economic development and business growth. Whether it be mergers and acquisitions, tax incentives, real estate, employment law or government regulations, we are well-equipped to help clients with any need that may arise as they evaluate relocation or expansion opportunities.
