

Brooks Pierce Attorney Named to Wake Forest Law School Rose Council

12.16.2021

Brooks Pierce attorney Sarah Saint has been named to the Wake Forest Law School Rose Council. Her three-year term begins July 1, 2022.

The Rose Council builds community by encouraging recent Wake Forest Law graduates to increase their involvement with the school by volunteering, attending events, staying informed and giving back. The council is composed of alumni from within the last 15 years.

Saint advises and litigates on behalf of public and private educational institutions and school boards on a wide range of education law issues, including special education and disability issues, civil rights laws and tort claims. She also represents businesses in a variety of industries to resolve disputes, litigating in state and federal court when necessary. Saint has a particular focus on diversity and civil rights issues, including issues related to race, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability and religion. She is actively involved in the community, serving as chair and on the board of directors for several organizations.
